Research Program and Project Management (RPPM)

Transportation Pooled Fund (TPF)

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Transportation Pooled Fund Program. At the top, there is a green header with the TPF logo and the text "TRANSPORTATION POOLED FUND PROGRAM". Below this is a navigation bar with links for Home, About TPF, How to Participate, Open Solicitations, Search, Forms, Success Stories, Related Links, and Email Alerts. The main content area features a "Welcome to the Transportation Pooled Fund Program Web Site" section, followed by a description of the program's purpose and a list of features. A "Tools" sidebar is visible on the right. The footer contains copyright information for the National Cooperative Highway Research Program (NCHRP).

Welcome to the Transportation Pooled Fund Program Web Site

When significant or widespread interest is shown in solving transportation-related problems, research, planning, and technology transfer activities may be jointly funded by several federal, state, regional, and local transportation agencies, academic institutions, foundations, or private firms as a pooled fund study. The Transportation Pooled Fund (TPF) Program allows federal, state, and local agencies and other organizations to combine resources to support transportation research studies.

This web site enables users to learn more about proposed and existing studies that will improve the safety, mobility, and cost-effectiveness of transportation. The web site provides:

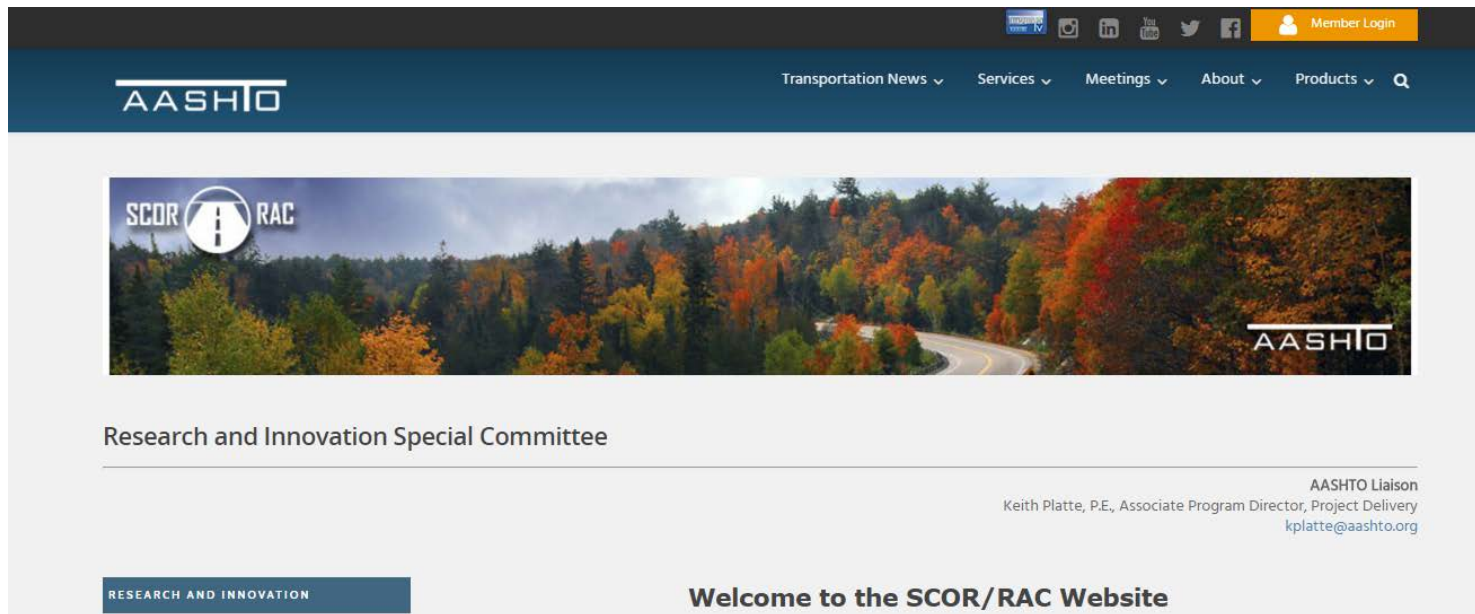

- Program news and updates
- A central place to solicit partners for new studies.
- A central place for committing funds.
- A centralized database for storing records of solicitations, commitments, and studies.
- A place to report progress of ongoing studies.
- Interactive features such as automatic notifications on new solicitations, updates on study activities, and reminders to obligate funds.

For questions or information about the Transportation Pooled Fund Program, please contact the Program Manager, David Pamplin, david.pamplin@dot.gov, 202-493-3166. You can also contact Jack Jernigan, Team Director, Research and Technology Program Development and Partnership Team, jack.jernigan@dot.gov, 202-493-3363

SCOR/RAC Website

The screenshot shows the homepage of the SCOR/RAC website. At the top, there is a dark blue navigation bar with the AASHTO logo on the left and a menu with items: Transportation News, Services, Meetings, About, and Products. To the right of the menu are social media icons for YouTube, Instagram, LinkedIn, YouTube, Twitter, and Facebook, along with a Member Login button. Below the navigation bar is a large banner image of a winding road through a forest with vibrant autumn foliage. The banner includes the SCOR/RAC logo on the left and the AASHTO logo on the right. Below the banner, the text "Research and Innovation Special Committee" is displayed. To the right of this text, the contact information for the AASHTO Liaison, Keith Platte, is provided, including his title and email address. At the bottom of the page, there is a dark blue bar with the text "RESEARCH AND INNOVATION" on the left and "Welcome to the SCOR/RAC Website" in the center.
